Officials say IRS won't check records

Months-long bout with IRS continues for Canyon chamber

Canyon Chamber of Commerce officials don't know whether to laugh or pull their hair out as they describe a months-long horror story of dealings with the most visible of the federal bureaucracies — the Internal Revenue Service.

They've learned one thing, though. You can't reason with a computer.

John Childs, immediate past president of the chamber, describes it as "a battle with IRS bureaucrats."

Chamber director and CPA Gene Glazener says it's simply a result of the refusal of IRS to check its own records.

The IRS says the Canyon chamber owes the government nearly $10,000 and has threatened to seize the chamber's assets for the debt.

The chamber-IRS tiff began last summer when chamber directors formally proclaimed the women's division of the organization an official part of the chamber of commerce. While the women's division had operated for several years prior to that time almost independently, it was declared a real chamber activity.

Shortly after that declaration by the chamber board, Manager Roland Black submitted to the IRS revised and amended income tax returns to list the nature of transactions undertaken by the women's division since its inception in 1971. Black submitted documents to amend the chamber's returns for the years 1971, 1972, and 1973.

The chamber, as a tax exempt organization, does not pay income tax, but must file returns under the federal law.

In filing what he intended to be amended returns, Black apparently failed to write the word "amended" on the forms he submitted to cover the activities of the women's division.

And, therein lies the problem.

Glazener, who has handled the chamber's tax returns, said the IRS sent the chamber of commerce a bill for $9470 in August, that amount being the penalty assessed by the IRS for failure to file returns.

As Glazener assessed the situation, the IRS failed to check its previous files and was operating under the false belief that the Canyon chamber had not filed any returns for those three years.

Glazener called the Philadelphia office of the IRS and talked to one representative.

"She said these matters are handled in the local offices," he said, so he called Dallas' IRS office where he was told he'd have to talk to the Philadelphia office.

Finally, Glazener wrote a letter to the Dallas office explaining that the re-

Back To The Grind

A week's rest wasn't enough for this Canyon school student, who found the return to classes on Tuesday unbearable. Or, maybe he was taking the opportunity during class to rest up from a hectic week off for Easter vacation.

Independent may run service

Funeral home looking for way out of ambulance business here

Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors of Canyon is making moves to extract itself from the business of providing ambulance service for the city and outlying areas, but the local manager says he will maintain the emergency service until an equitable substitute can be instituted.

Billy Joe Hunter, Canyon manager for the funeral home, confirmed this week he has met with city, county and hospital district officials in recent weeks to let them know the funeral home is actively pursuing a route to rid itself of the emergency ambulance business.

It is possible, he said, a private operator will purchase the ambulance facilities to serve Canyon.

"The reason we're going to give up the ambulance service is that we're being forced out of it by rules and regulations required to operate an ambulance," Hunter said.

The manager said it is becoming increasingly more difficult for funeral homes in Texas to operate ambulance services as adjunct business enterprises primarily due to federal regulations and requirements.

Schooler-Gordon, a chain funeral home operation headquartered in Amarillo, purchased the Canyon funeral home and ambulance service about a month ago from LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

At that time, Hunter said, the new management decided to study the continued feasibility of operating the ambulance service out of the funeral home.

"As time went by we looked into it and we found it could ruin us because we're in such violation," Hunter said. He said the service has been operated without complying with the federal laws, particularly those involving the minimum wage requirements.

Hunter sees the wage and hour law as a primary hindrance to profitable operation of the ambulance service by the funeral home.

"A funeral home cannot own an ambulance service without showing that four people work 80 per cent of their time on the funeral home and 20 per cent of their time in the ambulance service," he said. "You'd end up with more men than they have in the biggest funeral home in the state."

An independent ambulance service, he said, has some breaks under the law, breaks not available to services operated by funeral homes.

In fact, Hunter said, most funeral homes in Texas have divested themselves of their emergency ambulance services.

"What we're saying is backed up in black and white," he said.

Hunter said Schooler-Gordon will continue to operate the ambulance service until an independent operator can be found to purchase the service, or until other remedies can be worked out.

The funeral home's contract with the City of Canyon for providing ambulance service here expired the last of March.

Meet set to discuss rents here

Danny Ward, a married student at West Texas State University, believes Canyon landlords charge too much rent for apartments and houses and he's set a meeting April 17 to try to do something about it.

Ward, formerly of Tulia, said the high cost of living in Canyon has caused many students to drop out of WTSU before their education is completed.

He has called a meeting which he hopes will be attended by landlords, students, and other interested persons for 7:30 p.m. April 17 at the activities center on campus.

While a portion of the discussion during the meeting will center on the need for lower rental rates for Canyon apartments and houses, Ward said he also wants to explore the possibility of obtaining federal or state fun-

County farm leaders hesitant to take strong cutback stand

There was no indication at mid-week that Randall County farmers will join with other farmers in the Panhandle to cut back voluntarily on their wheat and grain sorghum crops as a protest to low prices on farm products.

Nor did any official support come from the leadership of the two major farm organizations in the county.

Joe Turpin, president of the Randall County Farm Bureau, said he has discussed the action taken Monday night by farmers in a Hereford meeting with Randall County farmers and "I haven't heard anybody say anything in favor of it."

More than 700 Texas and New Mexico farmers met in Hereford to plan cut-back activities in an effort both to protest low farm prices and to hopefully reduce grain and wheat production to force prices back up.

The farmers voted to voluntarily cut back on their wheat and grain sorghum production by 10 per cent this year.

Turpin said the Farm Bureau has taken no stand on the issue, but he said he personally questions the efficacy of such a program of cut-backs.

"It's not quite like the calf slaughters, but it could be bad in the public's eye when people are paying what they are for bread," he said.

Historically, Turpin said, such cut-backs on production have not been particularly successful. He said the success would be dependent on many farmers joining such an activity and he said historically not very many farmers have been willing to plow their crops under.

"It seems to be better to limit planting rather than destroying something after it's on its way," he said.

Turpin speculated that most farmers are "gamblers enough" that they'll harvest what they have planted this year and take their chances on the price in the market when summer hits.

Alfred Buecker, president of the Randall County Farmers Union, said the general discussion he hears among county farmers indicates many would not favor cut-backs on this year's wheat crop, which is already planted and growing well on a record number of acres here.

But, he said that doesn't mean they might not cut back on wheat and grain sorghum production next year.

Both Buecker and Turpin agreed that voluntary cut-backs on production are most effective

Income tax rebate could mean as much as $200,000 to locals

The federal income tax rebate passed by Congress and signed by President Ford last week end could mean as much as $200,000 for Canyon residents when the rebate checks are distributed this spring.

That amount of new revenue to city families is equal to a week's worth of retail expenditures, based on city sales tax figures.

Projections based on the 1970 census and 1975 population estimates for Canyon indicate families here could receive as much as $217,000 through the rebate program.

The rebate system authorized under the law passed last week would give checks from between $100 and $200 to taxpayers in the city.

Based on 1970 census proportion projections, nearly 500 families with incomes between $15,000 and $25,000 per year would receive the bulk of the rebate return whole or about $80,000.

About 300 families in the $12,500 to $15,000 income range would receive a total of about $38,000. About 300 families in the $10,000 income range would receive about $33,000.

Families on social security income would receive flat $50 rebate checks or a total of about $15,000 here.

The total amount to be received by Canyon taxpayers would be equal to about a week's worth of retail trade in the city, if the one per cent city sales tax quarterly return is an accurate indicator of retail sales.

The City of Canyon receives about $25,000 every quarter from the one per cent city sales tax. That means retail business takes in about $2.5 million each quarter or about $800,000 each month, or about $200,000 each week.

According to the rebate charts recently made available, those families which would receive $100 rebates would be in the income range of $3000-8000 for single persons, $5000-10,000 for couples alone, and $5000-12,500 for couples with two children.

95 vote in city races; more balloting Saturday

Only 95 persons voted Tuesday in a Canyon city election which saw two incumbents running unopposed on the ballot.

Both incumbents received 85 votes with a smattering of write-in votes recorded by election judges after the 12 hours of balloting in the community center.

Re-elected to two-year terms were Dr. J. Pat Stephens on Place 4 and Dr. Willis Harrison on Place 5.

Stephens, a West Texas State University political science professor, has served two years on the commission. Harrison, a dentist, has served four.

Canyon city commissioners canvassed the election shortly after the polls closed at 7 p.m. Tuesday and declared Stephens and Harrison the winners.

Write-in votes were cast during the election for Mrs. Mary Parker, 4; Edith Nicklaus, 1; Fred Marsh, 1; Windy Miller, 1; Walt Shelly, 1; Dave Matthis, 1; and Jim Blake, 1.

Commissioners said they were a bit surprised by the high turnout for an election which had only incumbents on the ballot.

A big turn-out is not expected this weekend for three elections scheduled Saturday.

Voting begins at 7 a.m. and ends at 7 p.m. Saturday for the three elections. Balloting will be at the Canyon community center and at Gene Howe Elementary School for the Canyon School Board election.

The school board election has one contested race. Walter Graham, who's served on school boards for more than 40 years, will face a challenger in Jerry Martindale who lives between Amarillo and Canyon. Graham is a Happy area rancher.

Dr. Dudley Moore, local physician, is unopposed in his bid for re-election to the school board.

Another race which will be voted on Saturday is that of trustees for the Randall County Board of School Trustees.

Election Manager Mrs. Chris Thomas said balloting will be allowed at both the Canyon community center and at Gene Howe School.

Only one race will be listed on the ballot for the county board race. Charles Purcell, an Amarillo machine shop owner, faces re-election unopposed for precinct two on the board. Only

Dallas cities to meeting with HUD

Dallas area cities' representatives will carry a fight for themselves and Canyon to Washington today in an effort to persuade federal officials to allocate funds erroneously earmarked for other cities.

Canyon City Manager Glen Metcalf said Canyon will not send a representative to meet with officials from the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development, but the city's case will be argued along with the case of cities in the Dallas metropolitan area.

The meeting today will be the first effort by the cities to talk to HUD officials about that agency's mathematical error which works to eliminate any funding possibility for cities lying within other cities' metropolitan areas under the HUD Community Development Program.

Canyon had initially counted on about $760,000 in funding through the program over a six-year period. Officials here were told two weeks ago that HUD made an error in mathematics figuring the funding which would be available to cities like Canyon, which lies within the Amarillo metropolitan area. As a result, they were told, no funding is available.

Canyon had submitted a funding request for about $31,000 for the first year of the program, with the funds to be used to pave streets in West Canyon.

Metcalf said he will contact officials from cities in the Dallas-Fort Worth area who are to make today's trip to Washington after their return.

"We would join them if we can help," Metcalf said.

No decision yet on WT faculty cuts

West Texas State University officials, still speculating on what their budget will be for the next biennium, indicated this week no decision has yet been made on whether any untenured faculty members will lose their jobs for the 1976-77 school year.

"I haven't sent out any letters and none are proposed at this time," Dr. Ray A. Malzahn, academic vice president, said.

As a general rule, the university notifies faculty members whose contracts will not be renewed a year in advance of the termination date.

Malzahn said work on the budget for the next biennium has not yet been completed and the funding available will be a major factor in the decisions as to whether faculty members will be terminated for the second year of the biennium.

The university's budget request for the 1975-76 and 1976-77 school years is still pending approval in the Texas Legislature which is now sitting in Austin. The appropriations bill is still in committee.

Since the budget is not yet approved and university officials have no actual figures on how much money the university will receive for the biennium, Malzahn said it is hard to predict whether faculty terminations will be necessary.

"I can't say absolutely that nobody will get a letter," he said. "But, as things stand now, there's no necessity on that line."

The vice president said the budget picture should be clear by the close of this semester and faculty members, if any, who will not be

Events surrounding three principals in what some termed a vote swindle that change the course of history swirled into prominence again this week.

The three were Lyndon B. Johnson, John B. Connally and George B. Parr.

Manipulation of Box 13 in Duval County back in 1948 made Lyndon Johnson senator from Texas and ultimately led him to the Presidency. As President, Johnson bore final responsibility for the American debacle in Vietnam.

This week we are facing ultimate defeat in Vietnam with one-third of South Vietnam already occupied by red troops.

The south is experiencing blood bath and rape predicted by all except those of the Ramsey Clark and Jane Fonda ilk who somehow manage to see Hanoi as gentle folk bent on freeing their country from oppression.

This week John B. Connally stands in the prisoner's dock accused of accepting a bribe, conviction for which could draw him four years in prison and a $20,000 fine.

This week George B. Parr, convicted felon at 74, was found dead of gunshot wounds with two guns found on the car seat beside him.

Here's how the three got together. Johnson was in a runoff race for US senator with former Gov. Coke Stevenson.

It was neck and neck down to the wire with Stevenson a smidge ahead and only Duval's vote still. Out it remained until every other vote in the state had been counted and Stevenson still ahead.

Every legal vote in Duval County would scarcely have carried the day for Johnson.

The first part of the poll list was in pencil carelessly scribbled in various hands. Final pages of the list were neatly penned by the same hand in green ink and indicated that the voters miraculously voted in alphabetical order.

It gave Johnson an 87-vote victory.

Calculatin' Coke challenged the box. Connally, acting for Johnson, rushed to the Parr stronghold where George Parr, county patron was known as the Duke of Duval.

The poll list was locked up and then destroyed.

With the deciding vote being cast by Charlie Gibson of Amarillo the state Democratic executive committee decided to put Johnson's name on the ballot for the general election. In 1948 this was equivalent to election.

All three principals in the Duval "long count" vote scandal went on to lead turbulent lives.

Connally was a secretary of the Navy under John Kennedy and then was elected Governor of Texas. In this capacity he visited Canyon numerous times making several speeches here. He was wounded when Kennedy was killed in Dallas and later became Richard Nixon's secretary of the Treasury.

Johnson spiraled to power in the Senate, was defeated by JFK in his bid for the Democratic nomination for President in 1960 but became heir apparent succeeding to the Presidency when JFK was killed.

When the power of high-placed friends began to wane in Texas, George Parr got into trouble with authorities and has remained in hot water ever since.

Connally's very freedom is in the balance in his trial in Washington. Whatever the outcome there, his political future undoubtedly is shambles.

In many ways the political advertising in the Amarillo elections this year was the most ridiculous I have ever witnessed.

One candidate offered voters proof that he was interested in Amarillo "because he lives here." This is a boast that certainly could have been made by any of the candidates since they had to "live there" in order to get on the ballot.

John Drummond's backers should get some kind of prize for the most inept ad ever placed for a candidate for anything. It even beats Bob Price's horse ad of some years back, done in blue on billboards and all but invisible from the highway.

The ad in question shows the candidate for mayor and his dog showing their backsides to the voters whom he is asking to make him mayor of Amarillo. I certainly hope this will not become the theme of his administration.

Also in campaign advertising, Drummond promised voters to "solve any problem that comes up."

Now that is indeed a large order.

EASTER BUNNIES in all sizes, shapes and colors will be the prizes for winners at Sunday's citywide "egg hunt" at Conner Park. Canyon VFW Post 5681 will supervise the hunt where prizes pictured with John M. Martinez, VFW member, and Naomi Daniels, VFW Auxiliary member, will be awarded.

Easter Bunny Delays Visit Until April 6

The Easter Bunny delayed his trip to visit with Canyon youngsters until Sunday, April 6, due to the cold temperatures encountered here over the week end.

The community egg hunt for children has been re-scheduled for 2 p.m. this coming Sunday, April 6, according to the sponsoring Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 5681.

Eggs will be hidden by the VFW in three sections of Conner Park for the hunt on Sunday with three marked prize eggs to be found in each area. Youngsters finding the prize eggs will be awarded stuffed bunnies and the youth finding the "most" eggs in the hunt will also receive a special prize.

Park sections will be designated for hunts involving 0-5, 6-10, and 11-14 and the activity will be supervised by the sponsoring organization.

School Board Set To Hire Coach Today

Canyon School Board members are expected to hire a new athletic director/head football coach at a special called meeting tonight.

The board will meet with one candidate for the position during an executive session and then will take formal action in open session.

Today's meeting is set for 8:30 p.m. at the high school.

Supt. Jerry Jacobs said one candidate for the job will be interviewed by the board behind closed doors. He said he anticipates a decision on the candidate "if everything goes well."

Canyon school officials received more than 40 applications for the job and several reports on the candidates have been made to the school board in executive sessions in recent weeks.

The position to be filled tonight was partially vacated earlier this winter by the resignation of Ron Mills, who coached here four years. Mills accepted a position as athletic director and head coach at Bay City.

The man hired tonight, though, is expected to become both athletic director for the school system and head football coach of the Eagles. Mills was head coach only, while High School Assistant Principal W.V. McAlpin has been athletic director.

Rural Phone Users Meeting In Tulia

The annual membership meeting and election of three new directors will be conducted Friday evening, April 4, by the Mid-Plains Rural Telephone Association.

Telephone patrons in local rural exchanges will be involved in the meeting to be held at the auditorium of Tulia High School. The meeting is to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Youth Week Planned At City Church

Youth Week is scheduled to begin Sunday, April 6, at the First Baptist Church of Canyon with the youth taking church service positions in the morning worship period that day.

The youth will follow the Sunday worship services with a skating party at the Amarillo Skating Arena. Other events scheduled for the week are a bowling tournament for junior high students Monday afternoon, a social at the Spot Arcade on Tuesday, a Mexican Supper at the Youth Activities Building Wednesday evening, and a hamburger supper Friday evening.

Youth Week will wind up on April 13 with a guest appearance by Doug Kingsriter at morning worship and at an after-service luncheon in the Canyon Junior High School cafeteria Kingsriter is a two year veteran of the Minnesota Vikings and has played in two former Super Bowl football contests.

Buff Spring Drills Begin

It may only be April, but football season returns to the Texas Panhandle today when Head Coach Gene Mayfield directs his West Texas State Buffaloes in their opening spring grid practice session.

Thursday's session, the first of 19 scheduled workouts this spring, will begin at 2:45 p.m., on the football practice fields on the north side of the Canyon campus. The team will workout on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and will then fall into a regular schedule of Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Mayfield welcomes back 37 lettermen among 70 hopefuls for the off-season work, but he'll have some big holes to fill in preparation for his fifth season at Canyon.

"Our concentration will be on simply improving the players we have and try to replace some of the players we lost," Mayfield said earlier this week.

Included in the loss of 10 starters from last year's 6-5 team are five players who earned all-Missouri Valley Conference honors. On offense, the Buffs will try to replace all-MVC split end Tracy Dickson, tight end Merced Solis, and center Alton Cranford. On defense, honorees Bruce Davis at middle linebacker and Rick Mordecai at cornerback are gone.

1974 starters also missing will be tackle Allen Mullins, fullback Johnny Darden, defensive end Ben Bentley, linebacker Steve Rogers, and cornerback David Walker.

But with 37 lettermen, the Buffaloes still have a wealth of talent back. Offensive tackle Jeff Lloyd and defensive tackle Floyd Jones were both all-MVC last year as juniors, and both stand as strong all-regional candidates this year.

Some position changes will be made in an effort to fill the holes. Foremost will be the return of John Paul Lee from the defensive backfield to a running back slot, a position he played as a freshman two years ago.

Another big switch will be made with Jackie White, a senior from Lamesa, who will be tried at center.

"We may make some more changes, but we won't know what we'll need until we have looked for them for a few days," Mayfield added.

West Texas State will have two new coaches during the spring drills. Jim Crossland came from the WFL's Chicago Fire to become the WT defensive coordinator, and former Buff great Bill McKinney joined the staff late in March to assist Earl Wood with the offensive line.

Spring drills will climax on May 3 with an intrasquad game at Kimbrough Memorial Stadium.

Fund Drive Organization Due For Senior Citizens

The Senior Citizens will organize a building fund collection this evening when the group meets at 6 p.m. at Canyon Community Center for a business session.

Approximately $50,000 will be required to purchase the new building for continued activities of the senior citizen group.

E.R. (Dutch) Cleavinger reports that the group presently has on hand approximately $3,000 toward the center and will be seeking additional funding to provide a senior citizens center for the county's older residents to use and enjoy for years to come.

Tonight's business session will be followed with the weekly potluck supper at 7 p.m. with games and fellowship afterward. All senior citizens (age 55 up) are encouraged to attend.

Good Deed Recorded

There are still good Samaritans among us, Mrs. Elton Bryant, who lives on South Georgia Street says.

Mrs. Bryant, who works in an Amarillo convalescent home, cites this example:

Last Friday night, she says, out-of-state family was making its way from California to St. Louis when it stopped in Amarillo for a bite to eat.

An elderly man traveling with the family lost his bearings in Amarillo during the stop-over and began walking.

Dinny Densmore, who lives on Beacon Road in the north part of the county, passed the man, clad in light-weight suit, stopped, picked the man up and took him to the convalescent home where Mrs. Bryant works.

The staff of the nursing home called police to discover the man had been reported missing three hours earlier.

"I think somebody ought to give Dinny some kind of good-guy award," Mrs. Bryant said. "I think it's a fine thing he did."

Meeting Sat. On Girls Ball

An organizational meeting to assess interest in organizing softball teams for high school and college age girls will be held at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at the girls softball diamonds near the city sewer plant in east Canyon.

George Ritter of the Canyon Kiwanis Club said he hopes to field two teams from the high school and college age group to compete with teams from Amarillo.

The Kiwanis Club will sponsor the teams.

WT In Texas Relays

Strong teams in the sprint and 880-yard relays headline West Texas State's entries this weekend in the Texas Relays in Austin.

Coach Bob Kitchens will take 14 men to the two-day meet in the University of Texas's Memorial Stadium. The Buffs will compete in four relay events as well as having entries in five individual competitions.

WT's best bets could be in the 440-yard and 880-yard relay races where the Buffs have had good performances all year. A strong sprinting corps, led by Missouri Valley Conference indoor 60-yard dash champ Alvis Wright, has been stopped this spring only by the weather.

Last weekend's scheduled triangular with Eastern New Mexico and Colorado State in Canyon was cancelled due to a spring snowstorm. The only other outdoor meets for the Buffs this spring, at Arlington and Lubbock, were also hampered by poor weather conditions.

Alvis will join his brother Karl, Curtis Lindley, and Robert Dennis on the 440-yard relay unit which has run a 41.3 so far this spring. Rick McGuire and Wayne Cure will substitute for Alvis Wright and Robert Dennis on the 880-yard team. That group ran 1:27.4 at Texas Tech's Mini Relays two weeks ago.

"Hopefully, if we get some good handoffs, we'll be able to do well in the spring relay," Kitchens appraised.

Alvis Wright in the 100-yard dash (9.5), Charlie Haddad in the shot (54-2), and Tommy Humphries in the pole vault (15-6) are also expected to be contenders.

The Relays field will be the most glamorous on the Buffalo schedule this spring. "It's just a 'Who's Who' of the track world," Kitchens added. "Just look at the entries: UTEP, all the Southwest Conference schools, all the Big Eight Schools, Drake, LSU, Alabama. It will be just a great meet."

Preliminaries for the track classic begin Friday morning. Some finals will be run Friday night with the bulk to be run off Saturday afternoon.

Mattie Mack Donates Books To Library

Long-time friend and professor at West Texas State University Dr. Mattie Mack of Canyon has donated her personal book collection of more than 4,000 volumes to the University Library as part of the "Books for Buffs" drive.

"My life has been with the university for more than 50 years," Dr. Mack said. "I was a student here, and I taught in the Department of English from 1922-1968."

"This is simply a magnificent, overwhelming type of gift," University President Lloyd I. Watkins said. "These collections represent a life-time dedication to literature, learning and teaching, and the fact that Dr. Mack would consider giving this to West Texas State indicates as well a life dedicated to this university."

Dr. Mack's donation follows a gift of more than $2,000 from State Senator Max Sherman, who donated the funds that remained from his Governor-for-a-day ceremonies last year.

The book drive has a long-term goal of raising $1 million to fill "roughly 300 book sections in the Library," according to Head Librarian Frank Blackburn.

"Our immediate goal is to fill half of this in the next year or so, in other words 157 book sections, which would cost somewhere between $450,000-500,000," he continued.

Donations of scholarly collections such as Dr. Mack's, which contain first editions of Greek and Roman Literature, are also being sought, as well as gifts of $15 or more for the purchase of single volumes.

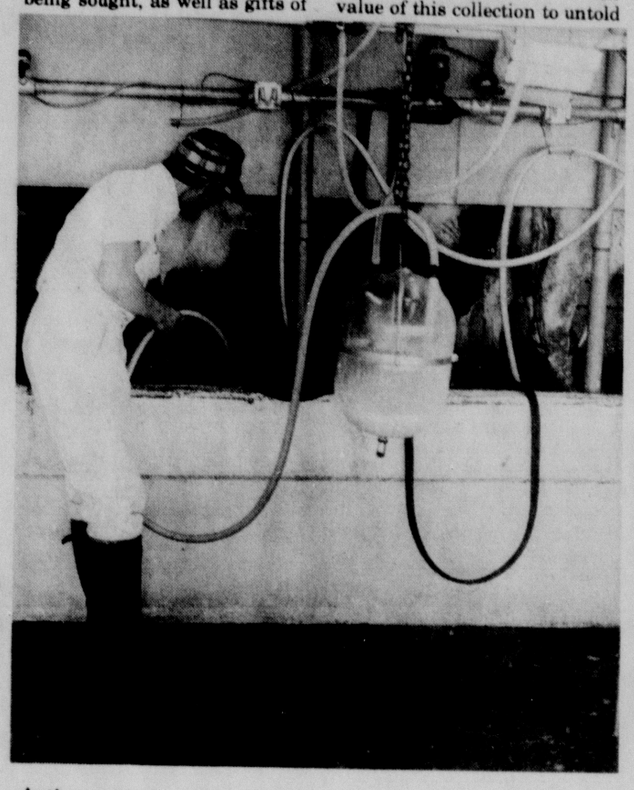
"My association with the University was always my guide and inspiration," she said. "I wanted particularly to leave my collection, which I started when I was just getting enough money to buy books from time to time, for later users of the Library."

"I guess I have never seen a personal collection to equal this one," Watkins continued. "The value of this collection to untold future generations of young people at WTSU is incalculable."

"We do have as a major commitment at this university a building of a truly first-rate library," he said, "and that a person of Dr. Mack's abilities, interests and eminence would consider us in this way is touching to all of us. This is a major gift to the university."

Donations to the West Texas State University "Books for Buffs" drive will be made through the WTSU Foundation, and are tax-deductible. The donor's name will be commemorated in a bookplate inside any books given or purchased with donated funds, or, for larger contributions such as Sen. Sherman's, on a gold plaque above the collection.

Interested individuals should contact either Librarian Frank Blackburn or Director of Development Keith Winter at West Texas State University.



Action at the university includes use of a milking machine by a WTSU student.

Rites Held For Local Women's Brother

Funeral rites for George McClellan Thompson, 36, were conducted Monday, March 31, at the First Baptist Church in Clarendon with burial in Groom Cemetery.

Mr. Thompson was dead on arrival Saturday evening at Parkland Hospital in Dallas after being beaten, stabbed and robbed in a Dallas parking lot. He was born at Memphis and had been a resident of Clarendon before moving to Dallas nine years ago. He was an executive representative for Ray McDonald Advertising Associates of Dallas.

He is survived by two daughters, Faith Renae and Tracy Lee, both of the home, two sons, Alan and Hank of the home; his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sibley of Clarendon; three sisters, Mrs. Charles Hammell and Mrs. Mike McCully, both of Clarendon, and Mrs. Odell LaGrone of Canyon; and two stepsisters, Mrs. Harold Root of Canyon and Mrs. Frank Brown of Amarillo.

Dairy Used As Teaching Aid

The West Texas State University Dairy, managed by associate professor of animal science Dr. Kenneth Wilson, is used as a teaching aid for students from kindergarten age to seniors enrolled in the university.

The dairy is a self-supporting unit depending on the milk production for its only income.

The diary moved to its present location in March of 1971 and now has a 70-cow herd with an average of 60 cows on the milk line.

"We have seven university students that do the milking," Wilson said. "We have no herdsman, which is unique in that the students help in the management. We work on the seniority system where the two most senior students have the right to order things done."

The students that work at the dairy also make sanitation recommendations to the sanitation department of public health.

The diary is used for class work to give the students experience in artificial insemination, pregnancy testings, sickness, calving and calf care.

"Four-H and FFA students use the dairy for contests each year," Wilson said. "We have close to 250 students each year."

"Each year about three thousand kindergarten and grade school children visit the dairy," he continued. "Before they make their visit they study from books, and when they do visit the dairy we always milk a cow for them."

Some of the milk is used in the class rooms for the purpose of running milk tests.

"There are 13 different milk quality tests," Wilson stated. "We can not run all of the tests, because of our limited testing equipment, but we run all we have equipment for."

"Small amounts of milk are furnished to some of the grade school classes to demonstrate how butter is made," Wilson said.

Students from the Canyon High School cooperative program and the Texas Rehabilitation program receive credit for learning a skill while working at the dairy, Wilson noted.

The dairy is also used in research projects, and in problems courses offered by the Agriculture Business and Economics Department.

"Many other campus people use the dairy," Wilson said. "Photography students use it as a learning aid, and the Health Department holds tours for the Department of Nursing.

The cow herd breeds at the dairy are Brown Swiss, Jersey and Holstein-Friesian. The Brown Swiss were added just this year, Wilson stated.

"The barn is a single five herringbone, and glass lines are used so the students and milkers can trace the milk from the cow to the holding tank," Wilson said. "This gives the students first hand experience."

Purchased alfalfa is the only roughage used. The students and Dr. Wilson design the feed concentrate, which is mixed by a commercial company.

"The dairy course that is taught now leans toward consumers as well as dairy husbandry," Wilson said.

In the future, an advanced dairy course may be offered for students interested in the field as well as a food processing course which will take in milk processing.

"Consumers need to understand processing, packing and distribution," Wilson said.

"Some students have all the information needed for management while others would do better in a related field," he noted. "The dairy is an exceptional training tool."

turns Black had submitted were intended to be amendments to returns already filed.

No word was heard from the IRS until December when Black received a computer print-out form letter demanding that the chamber pay $9120 in penalties for failing to file the returns on time.

Then, in January, another computerized letter came asking for payment.

In late January, Glazener again tried the personal approach and called the Dallas IRS office.

"He recommended we wait," Glazener said, "and that's what we did."

Then in March, Black received a computerized letter which warned the chamber that the document was the "final notice before seizure," and that if the $9000 wasn't paid the assets of the chamber would be seized.

Glazener responded with a letter once again pointing out that if IRS officials would look in their files they would discover that the Chamber had, indeed, filed original returns for the three years and that the other returns filed by Black were intended to be amendments.

"We haven't heard from them since," he said.

Glazener is a bit put out by the whole affair.

"I don't know what's happening," he said. "It should have been stopped the first time I called."

Vote. . .

those voters who reside within county commissioner precinct two and outside the Amarillo independent school district may vote in the election.

Don Marsh's name has been removed from the ballot after a state attorney general's opinion rendered two weeks ago said persons residing in the Amarillo school district cannot vote in county school board elections here. Marsh's precinct lies wholly within the Amarillo school district.

Several incumbents are unopposed in their bids for re-election to the board of the South Randall County Hospital District. They are Mrs. Lois Hull, current board chairman, George Blackwell, Bill Sternenberg and Vernon Harman. Mrs. Hull, Sternenberg and Harman have served on the board since it was formed several years ago. Blackwell was first elected two years ago.

Balloting for the race will be at the community center.

Farmers. . .

in raising prices in the market when all farmers agree to such procedures.

For many years in the past decade, farmers were forced to reduce crop production by federal law, a response to feed grain and wheat surpluses. However, President Nixon's administration two years ago removed the restrictions on planting and American farmers began competing for world markets with their products.

County Agent John Brazzil said wheat market prices are erratic this spring, but appear to be falling as national leaders predict a record wheat crop harvest.

Likewise, he said, grain prices are also dropping in anticipation of a large grain sorghum and corn harvest next fall. Many farmers are worried that the stepped up production of feed grains, used primarily to feed cattle, will mean surpluses and low prices next fall due to a decline in the numbers of cattle on feed.

The Monday night meeting in Hereford was a response to these indicators.

Income. . .

bates would go to single persons with incomes of between $12,500 and $25,000; to couples with incomes between $15,000 and $25,000; and couples with children with incomes between $17,500 and $25,000.

Decision. . .

rehired for future years should know their status by that time.

Last spring, Dr. Lloyd Watkins, university president, announced that for the first time in several years no faculty members would be terminated.

More than a dozen faculty members have been terminated since the university enrollment began dropping in the early 1970s from a high of nearly 8000 students.

Rents. . .

ding for construction of a subsidized-rent housing complex or apartment house for students.

"There are too many students dropping out because they can't afford it any more," Ward said. "They can't find part-time jobs that pay anything and the housing is high."

Ward said he is particularly concerned about married students as opposed to single students whose families may be able to supplement their stay at the university.

The student said, for example, he and his wife rented a three-bedroom brick home in Tulia for $75 per month before moving to Canyon.

"We came up here and it's $125 a month for a two-bedroom house that's just stucco," he said.

Apartment rent is also high, he said, with some apartments going for as much as $142 per month.

Ward admitted that rents in Amarillo are probably higher than they are in Canyon.

He said one avenue open to reduce rents for married students should be construction of an housing complex or apartment unit where rents would be adjusted according to income.

An attempt was made in the late 1960s to construct such a unit in Canyon, but the effort failed.

Weldon Trice, WTSU dean of men, Fred Marsh, assistant professor of political science, are scheduled to conduct a question and answer session during the April 17 meeting, according to Ward.

Trice, who handles housing for students, said he has had few complaints this year from students concerning rent charged in Canyon.

Conversely, though, he said he's had "a lot of complaints" from landlords who charge that students have damaged their apartments or have given hot checks to cover rent.

Ambulance. . .

Service will continue, according to Hunter, until some resolution is made of the situation.

Currently, the ambulance service is subsidized by both city and Randall County.

Canyon City Manager Glen Metcalf said he is operating under the assumption that the ambulance service will continue until another solution is worked out.

"We're not dumping this thing on anybody," Hunter said. "We want to resolve this honorably."

NMSU Game A Preview

It may be the opening match of Hardin-Simmons University's invitational tennis tournament, but West Texas State Coach David Kent thinks his team's session with New Mexico State could be a preview of the Missouri Valley Conference championships.

"They have the strongest team they have ever had at New Mexico State," Kent said of young squad's Thursday afternoon opponent in Abilene. "Along with North Texas State and Southern Illinois, I fully expect them to be one of the main contenders for the title."

That title is one that West Texas State has won three of the four years it has been in the Missouri Valley, and it's such a record that has placed the Buffs as the second seed in the HSU meet.

Pan American University is the top seed. "They have a very strong team," Kent said of the Broncos from Edinburg. "Already this year, they have beaten Rice and Texas A&M."

The Buffs go into the three-day tournament with an 11-3 record in dual matches. Sophomore Brett Hall plays the number one position with a 12-2 record, and Steve Johnson (10-4), Todd Reed (10-4), Jay Goss (10-4), Wayne March (9-1) and Bobby Kleinecke (7-4) complete the singles lineup.

In doubles, Reed will team with Johnson (2-0), Kleinecke with Hall (2-0), and Marsh with Goss (4-2). Kent said that seventh man Dana Caledonia would play at times with Goss in doubles.

West Texas will play two matches each day in Abilene. After meeting New Mexico State, the Buffs will meet Kansas State. On Friday, the opponents will be Trinity and Central Texas, and Saturday WT will play Hardin-Simmons and Pan American.

The Buffaloes have not competed as a team since their own invitational tournament on March 15. Since then, the players competed in the Rice University tournament in Houston and took a short break over Easter.

Next week will also be a busy one for the Maroon. On April 9, WT will meet Oklahoma in a dual match in Norman, and starting April 10, Kent will send his team into the Oklahoma City University tournament.

The final home appearance for the Buffaloes will be April 18-19 for the West Texas State Team Matches.

Europe Trip Plans Set

Forty Canyon high school students and college freshmen will have an opportunity to travel to Europe this summer for almost a month on a "comparative cultures program" to be coordinated by two CHS teachers.

Participants in the tour will spend 5 days in Madrid, five days in Rome, two days in Florence, two days in Venice, four days in the Salzburg area, three days in Paris and five days in London.

Cost of the program is $1415.

Program coordinators are Mary Jane Reeves and Jane Westberry.

The program is for the 10th, 11th and 12th grade students and college freshmen.

Area advisors for the program are Sherry McDowell of Happy, Patty Laughlin of Tulia and Shelia Foster of Borger.

High school or college credit is possible for the tour, although the coordinators said students should check with their schools about this possibility.

Those interested in the trip this summer, which is scheduled July 9-Aug. 5 are invited to a film on the program at 7:30 p.m. today in room 40 of Canyon High School.

Application blanks and other information are available from Mrs. Reeves or Mrs. Westberry at CHS, Drawer 899, Canyon.

Little League Meeting Set

Little League activities get underway here next week beginning with a meeting for parents and prospective players at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the West Texas State University fieldhouse.

Frank Castleberry of the Little League said boys ages 8 through 12 are eligible to play and should come to the Tuesday meeting with their parents for orientation. A fee of $7.50 for the season should also be brought to the meeting.

Forms for registration for the baseball program will be passed out to youngsters during school this week.

Castleberry said a coaches meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in Room 126 of the WTSU Activities Center.

Try-outs for the Little League Teams will be held three days — April 10-12.

Try-outs for 10-year-olds will be at 4 p.m. on April 10 at the Little League park. Try-outs for 11-year olds will be at 4 p.m. on April 11 at the park, and try-outs for 12-year-olds will be at 10 a.m. April 12 at the park.

Bill Would End Lines

Long lines at the tax assessor's office on March 31st would cease to exist if a bill introduced by Representative Bob Simpson passes this session of the legislature.

"The bill would allow people to purchase license plates for motor vehicles throughout the year, much like we now do inspection stickers," Rep. Simpson asserted. "This would be another step in a state policy which began this year with the five year license tags."

"This new piece of legislation, along with a similar bill that I am carrying which would stagger the renewal of notary publics over a two year period should allow for additional efficiency at the county courthouse," Simpson explained.

"The passage of these two measures would alleviate the seasonal rush of work in the tax assessor-collector and county clerk's offices," Simpson stated, noting that "with the present workload of these two areas spread throughout the year there should not be a need for additional part time help or overwork on the regular employees."

CB Radio Group Forming In City

Canyon's newest organization was formed Friday evening, March 28, at The Only Place in Canyon as a number of residents interested in citizens band radio activities met together to organize the "Buffalo Breakers".

The group established their monthly social meetings of CB operators and their families with the purpose of having informational programs on changes and rules regulating operation of CB radios.

Further discussion and adoption of guidelines is scheduled for Friday evening, April 11, at 7:30 p.m. at The Only Place. All persons interested in citizens band radio operation and guidelines are welcome to attend the meeting.

County Extension Agent, Becky Hall, was in Pampa Monday, March 31, to attend a district extension association meeting which featured an afternoon film on professional improvements.

Loving Memories

Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall
You had a kindly word for each and died beloved by all.

The voice is mute and stilled the heart
That loved us well and true
Ah, bitter was the trial to part
From one so good as you.

You are not forgotten loved one
Nor will you ever be,
As long as life and memory last
We will remember thee.

We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes by we miss you more,
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.

Gene Howe News

Area Educators Take Trips

By KAROLYN FARMER

BECAUSE OF EASTER vacation, Gene Howe News is a little on the light side this week. But we're never completely without news, so here goes. . .

AN OPEN INVITATION is extended to all persons associated in any way with Gene Howe Elementary over the past ten years to attend its Tenth Anniversary Celebration and Open House to be held Monday, April 7th at 7:30 at the school.

Plan to spend the evening with old and new friends. The building will be open for inspection following the program, and refreshments will be served by the PTA.

Do come!

OUR FAMILY MADE a flying trip to Houston for Easter. Sweet hubby Kyle drove all night going and coming so that we, along with my mother Dorine Howe, could visit my brothers Eddie and Roger Howe and their families. (None of us are any relation to Gene Howe, but it's a nice coincidence that we share the same name.)

ELIZABETH WILSON, OUR school librarian, has been attending the Texas Library Association Convention in Dallas. She was excited before she left about the prospect of hearing some very notable educators speak to the delegates.

Elizabeth is really a lovely and patient young woman who obviously enjoys encouraging our boys and girls to read, and we appreciate her dedication.

ERNESTINE AND BILL Harp and Dena visited this past week with Ernestine's sister, Mrs. V.A. Shelton and family in Frisco, Texas.

LUTHER LAWLESS AND VonDean McGregor attended an Individual Guided Education conference in Lubbock on Wednesday, April 2nd. Both Mr. Lawless and Mrs. McGregor are vitally interested in individualized education for our children and really work hard to make sure each Gene Howe student receives a top rate education.

ON FRIDAY, APRIL 4th, all first grade students and new students from out of state will participate in a TB testing program at school.

LINDA FORD'S MOTHER, Mrs. Willie Fouts of Vernon has been visiting the Fords and she and Linda planned to go on to Tulsa, Oklahoma to visit relatives there.

JACKIE AND GEORGE Jobe and Shelley spent their Easter vacation skiing and visiting with relatives at Red River.

DON'T FORGET THAT school will be dismissed at 2:30 Wednesday, April 9th.

BOB AND MARGARET Ingram and family stopped off on their way home from Minco, Oklahoma to visit with Adrian and Suzanne Cunningham, Billy and Jody in Sayre, Oklahoma. The Cunninghams are former Gene Howe people who moved to the second best state in the U.S. last summer.

SOME NEWS FLASHES from the Divine Mrs. "M" (Mulherin, not Midler):

Troyce Mulherin, Co-Chairman of Arts Unlimited Eighth Annual Arts & Crafts Show, extends an invitation to all Gene Howe area readers to attend this excellent show. Same will be held on April 19th at the Federation Clubrooms, 2001 Civic Circle in Amarillo, from 10:00 to 5:00. Admission is one lowly dollar.

Many doorprizes are up for grabs and refreshments will be served. All art and craft categories will be on display, includine — but by no means limited to — needlework, oil paintings, wall hangings, dolls, plaster and ceramics, decorative paintings, quilts, decoupage in all its many realms, flower and fruit arrangements, terrariums and potted plants. A special category covered will be one of things made by or for children. An Easter table and a Christmas table will offer many "copyable" ideas. And many more goodies too numerous to list.

The club will also have a bazaar absolutely chuck full of goodies for purchase. Plan to come and plan to spend some time browsing around, as it will take some time to look at all the pretties!

Joyce Thompson serves as the other "Co" of the Co-Chairmanship; and Sandra Wait, a Gene Howe person, serves as Admissions Chairman. Troyce has tickets, or some may be purchased at the door. See you Satruday, April 19th.

THE AMARILLO FEDERATION of Womens Clubs is sponsoring a Spring Plant Sale to be held April 12th. The address is 2001 Civic Circle in Amarillo. The doors will be open at 10:00 and will remain open 'til all the goodies are sold. House plants and bedding plants will be offered for very reasonable prices.

Anyone desiring to donate plants of any kind to this sale may feel free to call Troyce Mulherin at 352-6053 and she will make arrangements to pick the plants up. For those who have nothing to donate, please do come by and pick up some bargains.

The proceeds from the Plant Sale will be applied to Federation expenses, which include a nurse's scholarship at West Texas State University.

AND ONE MORE flash: Joyce Thompson and Troyce Mulherin invite all the Gene Howe readers to visit them during the Home Show to be held in Amarillo at the Civic Center on April 4th, 5th, and 6th. Hours for the show on the 4th are from 3:00 to 9:00; Saturday and Sunday hours are from noon 'til 9:00. Come by and say hi!

PLEASE KEEP IN mind that no news is "bad news" for me. I can't possibly call all of you each week, so please let me know when you go somehwere or are involved in something newsworthy. The number is 355-8549.

* * *

HOPE TO SEE all of you at the big Celebration!

HOSPITAL ADMINISTRATOR, Ray Grimes, inspects literature regarding defibrillator units with Heritage Woman's Club members, l-r, Mrs. Carl Hollabaugh, Mrs. Phil Pennington and Mrs. George Loudder as the club makes plans to purchase such a unit for the local hospital here.

Port-A-Pack Defibrillator Project To Aid Hospital

Heritage Woman's Club is attempting to raise a goodly sum of cash for the purchase of a port-a-pack defibrillator to be presented to Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

Ray Grimes, hospital administrator, described the port-a-pack defibrillator as manufactured by Space Lab Company as an electronically syncronized unit adaptable for service with AC current or with a battery pack. He stated that the new defibrillator would be placed on a medical crash cart and would be available for use throughout the hospital and would also have an EKG scope and monitor for medical personnel's operation of the equipment.

Although the hospital presently has one defibrillator, the existing equipment would probably be moved into the surgical unit for emergency care thus leaving the new port-a-pack defibrillator readily available for use in the emergency and intensive care units as well as throughout the hospital.

Estimated to cost about $2,600, the port-a-pack defibrillator will be purchased by Heritage Woman's Club of Canyon through several upcoming projects including a "Kid Power" talent show on April 12, and a sealed bid auction for an original painting by D. Crow.

The HWC project will also be open to local individuals desiring to make donations toward the defibrillator. Individuals desiring to make donations may do so by contacting Adrienne Pennington, 655-2366, or Janie Loudder, 655-4042, where their donations will be added to the project for the defibrillator being sought.

Federated Clubwomen To District Meet

Federated clubwomen representing five Canyon women's clubs will be participating in the Top of Texas District Texas Federation of Women's Clubs district convention at the Hilton Inn in Amarillo Friday and Saturday.

Representatives of the Woman's Book Club, Sue Hite Club, Canyon Study Club, University Study Club and Heritage Woman's Club are expected to attend along with several delegates from the Les Amies Juniorette Club, a federated affiliation for high school students.

Four clubwomen from Canyon have been nominated for the district competition and most of the clubs will enter numerous reports, yearbooks and other projects for district judging and awards.

Nominees from both the Canyon Study Club and Heritage Woman's Club will be involved in the "Outstanding Junior Clubwoman" and "Outstanding Junior Leadership Development Award" competition. Any of the nominees gaining the district title will be advanced to the statewide competition to be further judged in Houston on April 20-23.

A number of city clubwomen are involved at district and state levels as departmental chairmen and Mrs. Larry Brandon of Canyon will be presiding during the convention as the district junior director. She will have one of her own original paintings entitled "Poppies" for display with tickets being sold to raise travel funding for her position as the district officer.

Other local women involved with official capacities at the district level are Mrs. Don Max Vars, junior district secretary-treasurer and general division parliamentarian; Mrs. Phil Pennington, district conservation department chairman; Mrs. Cary Magness, education department chairman; Mrs. Ronnie Gordon, membership and yearbook chairman; Mrs. Charles Brasher, scholarship and student aid division chairman; Virginia Cotton, crime reduction division and brighten the night projects chairman; Mrs. Charles Harter, headquarters maintenance and endowments chairman, Mrs. Tom Cannon, poll power chairman; and Mrs. John Childs, MIA (missing in action) letters chairman.

Also participating in convention activities from Canyon will be Mrs. Bob Lindsey, former district president of Top of Texas District Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, who will deliver the courtesy resolutions and Milton "Buff" Morris, executive director of the Opportunity Plan at West Texas State University, who will discuss the plans and progress of the student financial aid program at the Saturday session.

Kids Back In Schools

By DORIS MCKEE

IT WAS BACK to school on Tuesday and I believe most of the kids were ready. Of course, it won't be long now until they'll be out for the summer

Well, hopefully we have just passed the last cold spell for this year, and we'll be able to settle down and get those gardens started. Most everyone I have talked to has intentions of planting a garden this spring.

MRS. RUBY (GRANNY) Huddleston took the week off last week and went to Stephenville, Texas., with Vera, Jamie and Jay Huddleston to visit Vera's mother, Mrs. J. H. Holcomb. Granny also visited her brother Barney Swain in Weatherford, Texas.

CHERI RISNER WAS in Palo Duro Hospital last week for surgery. She came home Sunday and is doing fine. Boy, that's sure a bad way to spend spring vacation. Cheri is the daughter of Peck and Faye Risner of 137 La Fiesta.

CALLED PAT REED to see what she and Tex did over Easter, but she said they just stayed home. She did talk to her daughter, Ruth, and grand daughter, Melissa, back east.

FLOYD AND JONNIE Robertson spent Easter Sunday in Pampa.

LINDA SHAFFER AND boys Scott, Patrick and Mark spent a few days in Lubbock last week.

Norma Weeter said she and her family had a real great week, while her sister, Judy Darrell, and children, Bryant and Jamie, of Houston were at their folks, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Langley in Phillips. Norma and kids spent most of the week there also.

On Wednesday, March 26, Norma celebrated her birthday, and then Thursdy Norma came home to celebrate her and Larry's 10th anniversary. She said she got some real pretty anniversary flowers and on Friday they went back to Phillips.

Larry's brother, George and family of Kansas City, Kansas were visiting in Borger this past week. Larry and Norma enjoyed seeing them. On Easter Sunday Ann and Don Friemel of Claude, came and spent the day and night with Larry and Norma. They all had a very enjoyable visit.

We would like to say congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Johnson of 213 La Fiesta, on the recent birth of a baby boy.

MRS. CARRIE RICH is spending a while in Dallas with a daughter, Betty Massey. Mrs. Rich lives here at Siesta and is the mother of Carolyn Bays.

LAST WEEKEND LARRY, Carolyn, Cecelia and Mickey Bays went to Hale Center to see Carolyn's brother, Richard Belyeu and family. They also stopped in Amherst and visited with some friends.

ERNIE AND DOROTHY Robertson of 244 Loma Linda had guests last week while her folks Mr. and Mrs. Jim McMath of Albuquerque spent the week here.

KENNETH AND BARBARA Lett and family went to Gainesville this week end. Barbara said it was too bad to get anymore work done on their place, so they just visited. Her brother, Ren Tipton of Tulsa, Okla., was there.

WE HAVE LOST a couple of families this past week. Mr. and Mrs. Gary L. Judd and daughter DeDe have bought a home in Amarillo. Also Marie Hinsley and boys have moved to an apartment in Amarillo. We wish both families the best of luck.

Would like to welcome the Gerald Wimberly's to Siesta. They have bought the mobile home at 209 La Fiesta. Hope you'll like it here.

JAMES AND SHARON Jones and family spent Easter weekend in Hereford. They visited James folks, Mr. and Mrs. N.R. Jones, also James' brother, Elwood and family from Celeste, Texas, who were there. They also visited Sharon's folks, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Newman.

Oh yes, Sharon Jones is now taking a Nurses Aid course at Amarillo College. Sharon says, she has always wanted to be a nurse.

KENNETH AND DORIS Wallace loaded up that volkswagon again on Thursday, and away they went to Arkansas City, Kan., to spend the Easter holiday with their daughter and family, Linda and Bill Jordan.

Of course, Doris and Kenneth go mainly to see and spoil those two grand kids.

On Saturday they drove over to Blackwell, Okla. and ate dinner with Kenneth's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wallace, and on Sunday went to Ponca City, Okla. to see Doris's mother Mrs. Cora Erwin, before heading back home.

RAYLENE QUALLS AND sons, Paul Jr., Guy Raymond and Jamey Glenn went to Meadow, Texas to spend a few days last week with Mrs. Alma Wright, Raylene's grandmother. While there Raylene drove over to Brownsfield to see her dad, Raymond DeBusk and a great aunt Eva Baggett. They also stopped in Cotton Center going down and ate lunch with Tillie Kolder.

Easter Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Qualls, Paul's folks, drove over here from Friona to spend the day with them.

EUNICE AND BARNEY Rinehart spent Easter Sunday at the home of their daughter and family, Charlotte and Tom McWilliams, Sr.

Also present for the dinner were Tom and Belanie McWilliams, Jr. of Albuquerque and Bob, Jo and Brent Rinehart of Amarillo. Eunice said it was a real nice Easter day.

THOMAS AND WANDA Coffelt and family went to Snyder, Oklahoma to spend Easter weekend with Mrs. Edna Coffelt, Thomas's mother and visited with a cousin of Thomas's, whom he hadn't seen in 20 years.

Wanda and Thomas also attended the school reunion while there.

JIMMY AND JACKIE Judkins went to McClain, Texas this weekend to see Jackie's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Tom L. Enright.

Talked to Kathy Burgan Monday. She is really getting the hang of that paper route now. She said her family spent Easter with her folks, Gene and Maxine Collins in Amarillo.

THE CUB SCOUT Pack meeting was postponed from last Thursday night, because so many people were gone for Easter. It will be held this week.

DALE, PEARL AND Dusty West left Friday afternoon at 3:00 p.m. for Oklahoma City. They spent Friday night with Leroy and Lucille Hackworth, Pearl's brother and Saturday morning drove on to Roth, Okla. where Pearl's mother Mrs. J. L. Hackworth lives.

Pearl said they got to Roth just in time for a big fish fry dinner at her sister's home, Ruby Williams. Those attending the dinner were Pearl, Dale and Dusty, Mrs. J. L. Hackworth, Opal and Frank Hill, Leroy and Lucille Hackworth, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Southerland and family of Ada, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Williams and family of Honeygrove, Texas, and Linda Worsham and son Harley of Okla. City.

They all had a supper fish fry and Mr. Olan Crawford of Ponca City joined them. On Sunday all were present for a family dinner and Tony and Ginger Hackworth and family joined them. There were four generations present for Sunday dinner.

Sunday morning Raymond and Donna Hill and daughter of OKmulgee came by for a short visit.

Pearl and Dale drove over to Ada to see Dale's brother and family, Jack and Mary Jo West, and his sister and family Mary Dale, Hobart and Sandy Robertson. The West's also visited a good friend, Una Lee. All in all Pearl said it was a very good trip, but was glad to get home late Monday evening.

Guess it is time to sign off for this week, but will be back next week, so keep on reading.

Thought for this week, "If you think the grass is greener in someone else's yard, take a real close look, it just may be artificial."

See ya.

Seminar Set On Criticism

"The Value of Literary Criticism to the Society" will be the topic of the sixth West Texas State University Interdepartmental Seminar at 6:30 p.m. today.

Presenting the subject will be Mrs. Hope McKenzie, WTSU instructor of English. Dr. Charmazel Dudt will be the discussant, with Dr. Zell SoRelle as the moderator.

"Upon examining the role of the modern literary critic, we find that the subject of his analysis — 'an imitation of human experience' — must define the category of that 'imitation,' locate it in time, and establish the criteria upon which his judgment is based," Mrs. McKenzie says.

"Although in the past one man could speak for his age on almost any subject, the modern critic must be content to view literature — and through it, 'human experience' — from a limited and partial frame of reference," she says. "But his hope must be that all the fragmentary views will somehow by synthesized, thus forming the basis of a final almagamization of science (a system of objective criteria) and art (the work of imagination)."

The Seminar will be held at the United Campus Ministry, located on Fourth Street at the Episcopalian Center in Canyon. A buffet dinner will be served.

The final Interdepartmental Seminar on May 1 will be a presentation by Graduate Dean David Wheeler on "Research and the University." Guests with academic backgrounds and interests are invited to attend.

CHS Sports Banquet Due Saturday Night

Canyon High School's All-Sports Banquet will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, in the Canyon Junior High School cafeteria.

Amarillo television sportscaster Steve Oakley will be the emcee.

Awards to be presented to high school athletes include the Fighting Heart Award, Most Valuable Player in boy's basketball, Most Valuable Player in Football, Most Valuable Forward in girl's basketball and Most Valuable Guard on the girl's basketball team.

In addition, the Football Queen will be crowned along with the Basketball King and Queen.

Tickets to the banquet are available at the high school and from members of the Canyon Booster Club. Prices are $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for students.

Family Attends 90th Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. H.H. Shipman and Lizzie Wesley of Happy along with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Shipman of Hereford and Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Wesley and Annie Wesley of Brownfield attended the 90th birthday celebration of Annie and Lizzie Wesley's older sister, Mrs. Mittie Mann, in Twolumne, Calif., on March 23.

Born in Ouichita County, Ark., Mrs. Mann was the oldest child in a family of eight children born to Fannie and Crawford Evans who migrated to the Texas Panhandle in 1890 and located their home on the county line separating Swisher and Armstrong Counties. Mrs. Mann attended schools at Fairview, Salem and Wayside and was married to Harlen Mann at the Rowan home near Fairview in 1900.

In 1904, the Manns with their two small daughters moved to California and settled in Twolumne where they raised 10 children (eight of whom are still living).

Mrs. Mann's birthday banquet was held at the Keith Mann Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall which has been so named for the Mann's youngest son who lost his life in World War II. All of Mrs. Mann's children were present for the birthday occasion except for the eldest daughter in Oregon.

Austin Roberts (a nephew) and his family from Farmington, N.M., were also among the 175 guests for the birthday banquet which was hosted by her family.

The birthday report from Mrs. J.W. Wesley (former Fairview Breezes correspondent for The Canyon News) notes that many quilts and other items made by Mrs. Mann for her grandchildren were displayed at the birthday event and Mrs. Mann is in excellent health for her age, due in part to her continued activity in her own fruit orchard.

Commemorative Coins Are Still Available

Canyon Chamber of Commerce has available several of the 1974 minted Commemorative Coins for Randall County which were designed by local western artist Jim Ward.

Several of the bronze and a few silver coins are still available at the Chamber's offices according to Ronald Black, chamber manager.

The Bicentennial Committee for Canyon-Randall County has taken several of the commemorative coins to re-sell as a fundraising project and may be purchased from that committee through Mary Alice Hines.

N.D. Watson, Canyon volunteer fireman of the week, is a 25-year resident of Canyon who originally came here from Wellington. Watson, now a lieutenant with the fire department, has been on the department's rolls for 10 years. An employee of the Pantex plant in Amarillo, he and his wife, Glennis have two daughters, Mrs. Lynn Andrews and Terrie Watson.

School Board Election Saturday

By MARY NEAL HENRY

WE MISSED THE blizzard on Friday by only a few miles. Snow was reported west of Happy and even the town got enough snow fall to wet the sidewalks, but we saw only a few flurries during the day (East of town that is). The cold wind did blow!

J.T. said that it was so cold on horseback that you had to turn your head to get your breath if you were riding into the wind.

Saturday morning we had a snow cover, but it lay like a blanket on the earth — and not all in banks here and there. We did receive some moisture from it, very little, but still appreciated.

THE SCHOOL BOARD Election is this Saturday in Happy. Be sure to vote for your choice. Faye Hand, the incumbent is running for re-election. Others on the ballot are Dick Foster, Dick Railsback and Ronnie Middleton.

ART MILLER AND his family live in Austin — only about five blocks from where we were staying while we were there at the CowBelle Mid-Year Meeting. Art came over to the meeting on Monday afternoon to see if anyone from Happy was there and just barely caught Othella, Ruth and me. The other group had already departed from home. (we arrived about 2 a.m. the next morning). We had a short chat with Art. He looks very well and is very busy. The Art Millers seem to be very happy in Austin. Their weather is already hot.

HAPPY JAYCEES HELD their annual Easter Egg Hunt in Saturday afternoon — in spite of the weather. Several plastic prize eggs containing money were hidden among the eggs. Two of the eggs each contained a five dollar bill. A small crowd attended so each gathered plenty of eggs.

Later Sunday afternoon the circus was held in the Happy Gym. It had been scheduled to be held in a tent on the rodeo grounds. Small fries were highly entertained.

MRS. JOHN (MAUDE) Steele, died recently in Glendale Nursing Home in Glendale, Arizona. She and John had lived there since his heart attack a few years ago. Mrs. Steele had been an invalid for several years because of a car accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Steele lived in Happy in the residence that is now Bob Loudder's home. They left Happy sometime in the 1940s because I remember Maude and John well (and their little bulldog). Skeet, their son, was in the service at that time.

Maude is survived by her husband, John Steele of Glendale Nursing Home, 7022 North 48th Avenue, Glendale, Arizona 85301 and her son, Ewing (Skeet) Steel of 120 Ironwood Circle, Sierra Vista, Arizona 85635.
